

Sunday February 8, 2015

Maggie Glynn
@ Central Jersey

How bad are the roads in the Garden State?

Every driver in NJ loses almost $2000 a year because of their poor condition. A third of our bridges need repair and ten percent are structurally deficient.

Maggie interviews Rocky Moretti, the Director of Policy and Research for TRIP, a national transportation research group, about the findings of their report: New Jersey Transportation By The Numbers.

tripnet.org

