

E174 - All it takes is a little bit of money

Let's talk transportation, traffic, transit and what's driving you crazy as you try to get from here to there, no matter how you do it. Longtime Denver traffic expert Jayson Luber and Denver7 executive producer Joseph Peters will look at the big issues in transportation, traffic, transit and whatever is driving you crazy. Come join us on the road well traveled!

What is the state of our infrastructure across the nation? Not good, according to TRIP's Rocky Moretti. Rocky is the director of policy and research for TRIP and he joins me to talk about how bad our roads and bridges are and what is being done to make it better. Air travel might not come back until 2024. Emirates airlines will pay for your funeral if you catch Covid on one of their planes and die. All that and more on the Driving You Crazy Podcast.
