Keeping Maryland Mobile: Providing a Modern, Sustainable Transportation System in the Old Line State. That's the key message of the report, compiled by a National Transportation Research Nonprofit, released Tuesday May 2nd.

TRIP's "Keeping Maryland Mobile" report examines the use and reliability of Maryland's surface transportation system and the importance of the recent reauthorization of the federal surface transportation program. The report also looks at the challenges Maryland faces to accommodate future transportation growth and sustain adequate funding despite the potential of increasing fuel efficiency standards and the adoption of electric vehicles.
